to lasting friendships that developed in professional, social and family relationships. Those initial members were more mature than the average gamer at the time of formation and after realizing that they had common goals and pleasure in playing games provided by XBOX LIVE. As the organization grew and the constant refinement of recruitment standards they started to develop not only skills for playing games but a common professional strategic plan to address the experienced issues that the gaming industry. The organization grew in epic proportions during the first season of Rainbow Six Vegas in fall of 2006 and in combination with the successful

seasons of competition in arenas of www.gamebattles.com and www.teamcompete.com...

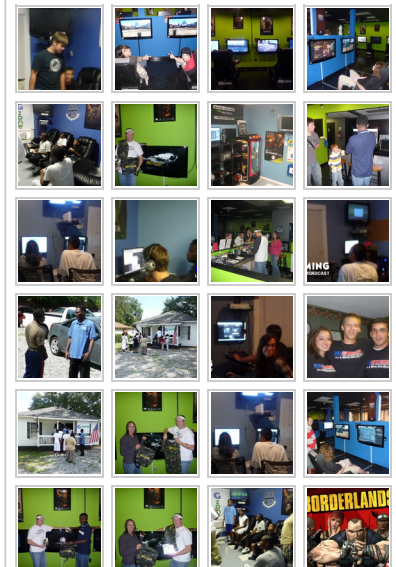

The leadership and founding members decided that this was the perfect time preparation for the evolution of the organization to transend the clan model and focus on the important issues of gamers as a whole. It was determined that to accomplish this organization would need to form a legal business structure and strategic business model to accomplish this goal.
